CH. 9 PENALTIES

Whenever the court penalizes a person under this Chapter, it shall also require that the person be referred to a qualified substance abuse counselor at the Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse for an assessment of the person's alcohol dependence and need for treatment. The counselor shall submit a report with recommendations to the Court, which may require the person to obtain appropriate treatment. All costs for such assessment or treatment or both shall be borne by the penalized person except for one documented to be indigent.

§ 9104.2. Records.

COURT DECISIONS: D.C.Guam, App.Div., 1967. Police officer's testimony as to defendant's driving and conduct after arrest, plus partly empty vodka bottle in care, support conviction for driving while intoxicated. People v. Pugh, 1 Guam R. 178.

D.C.Guam, App.Div., 1957. Where officers observed erratic driving, and where testimony showed that driver was unsteady, could hardly walk, was abusive and loud, and smelled of "alcohol", defendant could be convicted of driving while intoxicated. Govt. of Guam v. Rolinski, 1 Guam 384.

D.C.Guam, App.Div., 1977. Evidence of officer observing defendant's driving, passenger's observation of his behavior, breath-alcohol level as measured by intoxalizer machine, and expert testimony of doctor as to effect of defendant's blood-alcohol level on his driving, all amply support conviction for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. People v. Villarta, 1 Guam R. 425.

SOURCE: GC § 23405.1, enacted by P.L. 7-8 repealed and reenacted by P.L. 11-153. Repealed prospectively by P.L. 22-20:5 (6/22/93).

NOTE: P.L. 22-20:5 stated with respect to pending charges under the above repealed sections:

(a) Except for pending charges as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, §§ 9104, 9105 and 9106 of Title 16, Guam Code Annotated, and § 23404 and subsection (a) of § 23100 of Title XXIV, Government Code, are hereby repealed.

(b) The repeal of the sections and subsection set out in paragraph (a) of this section shall not be effective as to any charge that has been brought against any person prior to the effective date of this Act, and as to such charges, the prosecution of such persons shall continue as if such sections and subsection were in full force and effect. The intent of this paragraph is that no person shall be exonerated of a pending charge as a result of the adoption of this Act nor shall any person be subject to a more stringent penalty than would have been the case under the law as it existed at the time that such person was arrested.

§ 9107. Same: Reckless Driving.

(a) Every person who drives any vehicle upon a highway in willful or wanton disregard for the safety of persons or property is guilty of reckless driving. Such course shall be conducted under the auspices of the Department of Public Safety and shall be attended by the convicted reckless driver after serving his sentence or paying his fine, or both. Failure of such convicted reckless driver to attend such course shall constitute a separate offense and shall be punishable as a petty misdemeanor.

CH. 9 PENALTIES

COURT DECISIONS: D.C. Guam, App.Div., 1963. Evidence of intoxication, excessive speed and crossing a no-passing line shortly before accident amply prove the charge of reckless driving. It is immaterial whether or not the other driver might have been subject to a contributory negligence claim in a civil action. People v. Carolan, 1 Guam R. 103.

D.C. Guam, App.Div., 1967. Where drinking and speeding driver skids twice into path of oncoming cars before accident, he know or could appreciate fact that his actions could cause danger, and was guilty of reckless driving. While drinking alone will not constitute reckless driving, such drinking may be evaluated as part of evidence showing reckless driving. People v. Santos, 1 Guam R. 399.

§ 9108. Violation of This Title - Petty Misdemeanor.

Except in cases where a different punishment is provided by this Title, every person who fails or refuses to comply with or violates any provision of this Title is guilty of a petty misdemeanor.
